May Speaker: Marcia Stein

Destinations: Travel-Inspired Quilts

Marcia Stein is a San Francisco textile artist whose award-winning work has been shown in a number of juried exhibitions at galleries, museums, and quilt shows throughout the country and is included in several public and private collections

Marcia's recent designs combine her interest in photography with her quilt art, and she is currently at work on a series of pieces based on her photographs from Santa Fe, Italy, England, and the South of France. Her work focuses on storytelling through appliquéd.

Originally from Chicago, Marcia is a graduate of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. She took up quilting in 1992, after a lifelong interest in other needle arts, and has been pursuing her interest in textile art full-time since 1996.

Her presentation, which includes a trunk show, will show us her favorite scenes and tells how she created the quilts they inspired.

May 11 Workshop: Picture This!

Learn to machine appliquéd a small quilt top using your own photo for inspiration. Choose among several methods of stitching: a narrow zigzag over raw, fused, and turned-under edges. Learn how to achieve depth, when and how to add design elements, and how to simplify your design without sacrificing its essence. No drawing skills required.

Door Prizes

Door Prize winners in April were:
Naomi Hicks, Jan Freeman and Paula Raimond.

Our thanks goes out to our donors: Craft Essentials, Quilt Ventura, Art and Jenny Sewing, and Grant House.

Community Quilts

We have arrived at our final month for finishing up the projects for the Community Action Commission (CAC). Items for them will be accepted at both the May and June guild meetings. We hope to have a representative from CAC come to our June meeting to tell us about their organization and see all the wonderful placemats and quilts we have made for them. The placemats will go to their Mobile Meals program and the baby and mom quilts to their Teenage Pregnancy and Parenting (TAPP) program. We know they will be delighted with all your wonderful work.

At the May meeting we will introduce an exciting new project and have kits ready to be picked up that night. We think you will enjoy participating in this fun project.

A reminder: If you have checked out a kit and for any reason have decided against starting or finishing it, please return it so it can be put back in circulation. Thanks.

Correction for May Block of the Month (Sailboat)

It has come to our attention that the stated dimensions for the sky / sail rectangle is adequate, but yields the incorrect dimensions for the needed triangles.

As stated in the BOM article, you are instructed to cut one rectangle $7\frac{1}{4}$ " x $6\frac{3}{4}$ " from each of the 'sky' and 'sail' fabrics. To be sure you will have enough fabric cut your rectangles $7\frac{1}{2}$ " x 7".

ASSEMBLY:

Draw a diagonal line from an upper corner to the opposite lower corner on the wrong side of the sky fabric. Match it with the same size sail rectangle right sides together. Stitch $\frac{1}{4}$ " from both sides of the diagonal line. Cut apart on the diagonal line. The resulting triangles are too large for the block. The triangle dimensions needed are base (width) $6\frac{3}{8}$ " and height $6\frac{7}{8}$ ". You may find it easier to accurately trim the triangle to the correct dimension if you make a triangular template. Draw a right angle with a base of $5\frac{1}{2}$ " and side of 6". Connect both outer ends with a diagonal line to form a triangle. Next add $\frac{1}{4}$ " seam allowances on all three sides. Cut out this template. Lay the template to match the dia- nal side and base of the fabric sky / sail fabric triangles you have just sewn and cut apart. Mark along the height of the fabric the amount of the extra width which needs to be eliminated to yield the base (width) of $6\frac{3}{8}$ " and the height of $6\frac{7}{8}$ ". You should now be able to proceed with the sailboat directions as written in the newsletter.

Sorry for the confusion in the original directions printed in the April newsletter. I hope that this error hasn't caused too much confusion or frustration for you.

From the President's Desk

This month is our annual election and I want to thank all of you that have volunteered to take on board and committee positions for our guild. This guild would not be the fabulous organization that it is without the time commitments of all of the people that have served in various capacities year in and year out. My term as president is winding down but more about that next month. Come to the May meeting to show your support and vote for our new slate of officers and board members.

We have some exciting speakers and events coming in the next few months. May brings us Marcia Stein and her take on making quilts from photographs. I bought her book quite a while ago so I am thrilled that she is going to be here to teach her methods. And if you have been challenged by curves, our June workshop is by Virginia Walton and she is doing a curves quilt and teaching using a specialty ruler. We have plenty of room in both workshops so don't miss these great opportunities to learn new techniques!

And speaking of classes, check out our member merchants for classes, workshops and retreats that are available. Roxanne's, Creation Station, Quilt Ventura and Santa Barbara Quilting Retreats all have upcoming classes and events that you will enjoy.

I hope you are working on your quilt for the upcoming Quilt Show. The show committee is working on all the preliminary details and gearing up for a busy summer in anticipation of our September show. Postcards are available to pass out and mail to your friends and family. As it gets closer, we will be looking for volunteers for many committees. Our fearless leader, Karen Pickford, will be letting you know the volunteer opportunities as they come up.

I am so thankful for our guild. I appreciate your input and participation in the many guild activities we make available to you. If you feel like you don't know anyone yet, try joining one of our satellite groups. These are small groups that give you a chance to get involved on a smaller scale. Merry Bobbins, Spargolettes and the Strip Club are our newest groups, and they all have room for new members. Be sure to note on your renewal membership form that you are interested, and Chris Allen will call you with the information you need.

See you at the next meeting and until then, quilt til you wilt,

—Irelle

Quilt Show News

Countdown: 4 months!!! Hopefully, everyone is in the final stages of completing their quilt entry for our September show. We are in the process of fine-tuning our Quilt Entry form, which will probably be included in the June newsletter. The same form will be used for all entries: quilts, wearable art and challenge quilts.

As many of you know, our speaker in February, Ann Turley, gave us a lot of information about quilt judging. I would encourage you to consider having your quilt judged, as the feedback you receive can be helpful to developing your skills in the future. And you may be one of the fortunate ones who win a beautiful hand-made ribbon! Also, here is a helpful hint: the only thing that the judge gets from your entry form is the name of the quilt, so give it a descriptive and meaningful title!

At our June meeting, we are planning a series of kick-off events for the show. Here's what you can look forward to:

- Advance ticket sales will begin (Do you know friends to whom you can sell?)
- Sign-ups for volunteers will begin (Where are you going to help?)
- Public relations will be asking for your assistance in spreading the word around town (see below)
- Boutique sign-ups will continue (will begin at the May meeting)

Public Relations

To really make our show a success, we need to get people to attend, which means spreading the word in any way we can. We have postcards to distribute and soon we will have a poster to hang around town. We will have a display at both the downtown library and the Goleta branch in September and will be making "car posters" for you to put in your car as you drive around the area. During the month of September, we would also like to Blanket the Town with Quilts—so if you know of any art galleries, store front businesses, empty storefronts, etc. that might be likely places for a small display, please contact me. In 2010, we displayed quilts at Chaucer's on State Street and Front Page on Calle Real and would like to have several more this year. We will also need assistance in setting up these displays, so please contact me if you can help with this task.

Satellite Group Quilts

As I announced at the April meeting, we have been contacted by a couple of Satellite Groups regarding group displays at the Quilt Show. In order to plan the space for these displays, please email me (kjpickford@cox.net) to let me know if your group is planning such a display. Please give the name of your group, a brief description of the display and the approximate space requirement. We think this is a great idea for telling about what we do as a guild, but like everything, we need to plan for it.

Tickets

We have heard from many guilds that they are no longer providing free admittance to quilt show volunteers, but we have decided to continue this practice for the 2012 show. When you meet the volunteer criteria (see to-do section below), you will receive a free ticket to the show. However, we would like to encourage everyone to purchase a ticket for themselves, even if they do volunteer, as this is a fund-raising event, which allows us to have wonderful speakers, workshops and other events.

To-Do List

As you know, our show is run by volunteers and your help is needed in lots of areas – even small things can be a big help. Please consider the following:

1. Choose the quilt you are going to enter in the show. We would like to have everyone represented! If it's not finished, you've still got time. The deadline for entries and photos is August 9, but the quilt does not have to be completed at that time (i.e., still time for quilting)
2. Start making a list of people to invite to the show. We will have pre-sale tickets available in June. Set a goal to sell at 5-10 tickets before the show. If we all do this, our show will be very successful. This is one way to earn a member ticket to the show. Contact Liz Turner if you are ready to start selling tickets.
3. Make something to sell in the boutique. If you don't wish to participate in this venture for your own benefit, consider making some items to directly benefit the guild. This is another way to earn a member ticket.
4. Start thinking about where you would like to volunteer for the show. There are plenty of jobs to go around, both before and during the show – and you can earn your free admission. Remember, we will need lots of able-bodied people on Friday to help hang the quilts.
5. Contact potential businesses where we can display quilts in our Blanket the Town with Quilts campaign.

As always, thanks for your help. The Quilt Show is a group effort, and I deeply appreciate the committee chairs and volunteers who help pull it all together.

— Karen Pickford, 2012 Quilt Show Chairperson

WANTED: Unused Blankets

Are you in the middle of "spring cleaning" and perhaps replacing bedding, but now find that you have excess blankets (or mattress pads) in your household that you don't know what to do with? Here is a great recycling solution for you!

I have been volunteering with a local group in Goleta, at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, that makes "serviceable" quilts for local charitable organizations for distribution to those in need within our community. Presently they are desperately in need of a supply of blankets and mattress pads to use as "middles" to provide the "warmth layer" in the adult-sized quilts. This is the time of year when they are gearing up to complete a large supply of quilts to be available for the fall and winter, when the need for warmth is the greatest.

If you have any blankets or mattress pads that you would like to part with for a worthy cause, please consider bringing them to me at the next guild meeting. They will even accept non-functioning electric blankets (the wiring will be removed to allow the quilts to be washable).

My friends at Good Shepherd will be extremely grateful to you for any they receive! Feel free to give me a call if you would like more information about their project.

Block of the Month for June

NOT SO SCRAPPY:

PANTRY JARS

After carefully tending our gardens all spring, our efforts are finally bearing fruit...and vegetables, too! Now we can fill our pantry shelves with oversize jars of food to enjoy throughout the year. Have fun with this not really very scrappy June block.

FABRIC:

Background: Plain black fabric

Jar Lid: You will need one gray fabric

Jar Contents: You will need one 8 1/2" x 8 1/2" square of food fabric

CUTTING:

- » From background fabric: 1 piece 2 1/2" x 12 1/2"; 1 piece 1 1/4" x 12 1/2"; 2 pieces 2 1/2" x 8 1/2"; 2 pieces 1 3/4" x 4"; four 1 1/2" x 1 1/2" squares.
- » From gray fabric: 1 piece 1 3/4" x 5 1/2"
- » From a food fabric: one 8 1/2" x 8 1/2" square.

Then sew the 2 1/2" x 12 1/2" strip to the top of the block. Sew the 1 1/4" x 12 1/2" piece to the bottom of the block. Press.

You should now have a 12 1/2" block.

If you have any questions or problems, please ask us.

Thank you for your participation in this year's Block of the Month. We had fun. Hope you did too!

— Knotty Threads (Carol Hart, Kika Hutchings & Carolyn Rory)

ASSEMBLY:

To make the pantry jar: draw a diagonal line on the wrong side of the 1 1/2" x 1 1/2" background squares. Align a square in each corner of the food fabric block. Stitch along the diagonal line. Trim 1/4" from the stitching (toward the outer corner of the food square). Flip the corner patches right side up. Press. (This is just like a "snowball" block.) Stitch a 2 1/2" x 8 1/2" background piece to each side of the pantry jar.

For lid: stitch a 1 3/4" x 4" piece of background fabric to each end of the 1 3/4" x 5 1/2" piece. Sew this strip to the top of the bug jar.

A Quilting Success Story

The guild's own Pam Holst had a quilt she made for a Blockheads exchange featured in the April issue of Better Homes and Gardens. She's modest and would have just let the whole thing come and go quietly, if not for the encouragement of her quilting friends. Here's in Pam's own words, is the story behind the motivation for making the quilt and where it is now.

"I do not own the quilt. It belongs to Kathy Rose. I was a new member to Blockheads and didn't know Kathy. At a Christmas meeting, names were exchanged for an 'inspiration challenge,' and I drew Kathy's name out of a hat. She gave me the cover of Better Homes and Gardens, a cover that she admired for its color, balance and subject. Other members exchanged words, photos, magazine articles, some idea that was to be transformed into a quilt of any size by the following Christmas. (My name was drawn by Jean Phillips and I asked her to make me a little quilt that would work in a mountain cabin.)

I worried for months about how to make glass balls that were floating in water look three-dimensional. I had never made an art quilt. I knew Kathy was a great quilter, and I didn't want to disappoint her. I, too, thought the cover really pretty, especially all the shades of blue. I pretended I was doing a bulletin board in my classroom; paper is easier to deal with than fabric. The fabrics were not difficult to find. I used gray and white chalk to shade the cement bowl. Batik for the water, tiny turquoise and green beads for the small plants, bunched up green fabric 'pillows' for the big plants, corded silk and a piece of trim for the hose, skipped the water ripples, and avoided the glass balls. A week before the exchange, I cut some circles for a batik I had in my stash, sewed coils in them to try and make them look spherical, and placed them on the cement bowl. I was totally surprised to find that they popped up as I sewed around and around the outside base of each circle. For once, the poor tension on my machine was a blessing. Quilting around the hose and the beads was a challenge, and I pieced the binding to match the pavement. But I got it done in time to present to Kathy, and she liked it.

Someone in Blockheads sent a photo to Better Homes and Gardens. Shortly afterwards, Kathy quit the group, but she let me borrow the quilt for the photo shoot. If it hadn't been for Kathy, I wouldn't have been in a magazine. The following year's Christmas challenge was an exchange of photos for a portrait quilt. I worried all year about that one too!"
